DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1,2 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a)/(e) as being anticipated by Musil et al., (US Pub 2004/0045136).

With respect to claim 1, Musil Fig 2 and Fig 9 discloses a unitary plate body of a predetermined thickness and having an upper surface and a lower surface spaced by the predetermined thickness of the body; a plurality of rivets having preformed rivet heads including top surfaces that are aligned with each other; a plurality of apertures of the unitary plate configured to support the rivets depending from the plate so that the top surfaces of the rivet heads do not project above the upper surface of the plate body, and the rivet head top surfaces are closer to the lower surface than the upper surface of the plate body.

With respect to claim 2, Musil discloses that the plate predetermined thickness is sized to receive the preformed heads of the rivets (Fig 9).

With respect to claim 6, Musil discloses that the plate includes portions above and generally below the heads of the rivets in the apertures to capture the heads therein (Fig 9).

Fig 9, Musil US Pub 2004/0045136.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Musil et al., (US Pub 2004/0045136) in view of Blacket et al., (US Pat 6,116,835).

With respect to claim 8, Musil does not disclose that the unitary plate includes a plurality of unitary plates interconnected in a strip by frangible bridges. However, Blacket discloses that the unitary plate includes a plurality of unitary plates interconnected in a strip by frangible bridges (Fig 17 reference number 97) between adjacent plates. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the unitary plates of Musil to include frangible bridges, as taught by Blacket, for the purpose of easy separation of groups of rivets.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7,9-19 and 21-24 are allowed.

Claims 3-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6,8,9,12 and 18-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892 attached below.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
